

Please replace the Abstract with the following amended Abstract:

~~The invention relates to a device for making a~~ A foundation member in the ground ~~having~~ includes a soil working implement for loosening soil material in a soil area, a supply device for supplying a liquid to the loosened soil material and a mixing device for mixing the loosened soil material in the soil area with ~~said~~ the liquid to form a settable suspension. ~~Such a device has~~ as well as a removal device for removing suspension from a first section of the soil area and a return device for returning at least part of the removed suspension to a second section of the soil area. ~~The invention also relates to~~ a A method for making a foundation member in the ground is also provided.